GARDENING WITH KIDS

By Mark Linton, President

Ready, set GROW!!! Spring time is upon us and it's time to start thinking about planting a garden. Including your children in this growing trend can teach kids a lot of valuable things.

Children who garden have a better knowledge in making good and healthy food choices as they mature. This activity also builds a valuable love of nature as well as creating an environmental awareness. Not only is gardening fun for kids, it is a great form of exercise and relaxation.

Gardening with kids will create family memories while working in our yard. These days most kids spend more time in front of their computers, TV's or with their cell phones or i pods. Gardening is a great, healthy way to encourage kids to have some fun with an outdoor activity. Gardening also teaches the child patience as they wait for the garden plants to grow and get ready for harvest. Your children will learn where food comes from as they see it being picked from the garden, rather than being picked up at the grocery store. Be sure to explain the entire process to your children, including the names of all of the plants as well as all of the different parts of the plants.

Let them feel and touch everything! Gardening appeals to the senses! As a child, I can still remember the pleasing aroma of good dirt! To get started, I recommend some pre-planning. Be sure to have the proper clothes and tools for gardening. Make a list of all of the gardening tools that you are going to need. It is best if you can supply your kids with kid-sized gardening tools, which will be their "very own". The kids should be dressed in a hat, gardening gloves and appropriate clothes that are okay to get dirty. And don't forget the sunscreen! As it gets closer to harvest time, you should also have a harvest basket in which to put all of your vegetables.

First, I recommend planning out the garden on paper with the kids. Talk about the various possible locations of the garden and talk through the process of determining where it would work best. Have your kids draw the shape and size of the garden on paper. Remember, that gardens that are long and narrow work out best, so that you and your kids can reach across the garden. Go over the safety rules about tools and sharp objects before starting. Once the area has been selected, talk about preparing the earth and amending the soil. If you don't have much room or a back yard, then container gardening can work well on an apartment balcony or patio.

Vegetable plants can be started by several different ways, such as starting seeds to germinate indoors, planting seeds directly in the garden, or purchasing vegetable starts from your local garden centre. Make sure to involve your child in the process of selecting what should be grown. Not only are vegetables fun to grow, but many families are also enjoying planting fruit and berry producing plants, trees and shrubs. Strawberry plants are easily grown in containers, and raspberries and blue berries can be planted among your landscape foundation plantings as well. Fruit trees can be planted for both their beautiful spring flowers, as well as their edible fruit. After the garden is planted, now comes the maintenance. Watering, weeding and fertilizing, oh my! Yes, it's a lot of work, but a great deal of satisfaction at the same time. Next comes the harvesting, and that is when you reap the rewards that were sown. Make sure to discuss the proper care and storage of the garden tools.

Gardening can be a wonderful family project filled with adventure, experimentation, and learning. I've found that children love to learn when they're having fun. Not only will your kids enjoy the satisfaction of raising a garden, but they'll love spending good quality time with their family. Happy Gardening!

Mark Linton is President of Linton's Enchanted Gardens in Elkhart, IN and developed the love of gardening through his parents. After growing up in a family of gardeners, Mark followed both his dream and passion and started his business along with his brother Kirk, over 28 years ago. What started originally as a landscape design and installation company, has now blossomed into a 40 acre Nursery, located in Bristol, IN and Indiana's largest Home and Garden Centre, located on County Road 17 in Elkhart, a lawn and landscape maintenance company, as well as a Floral and Interior Decor Shoppe. The firm has two locations and employs over 100 team members. Mark's love of children shows in their business. The Garden Centre has a "Kids Korner" featuring a tree house play area and a free Petting Zoo, where kids can interact and feed an array of exotic miniature animals. Linton's Enchanted Gardens may be visited on the web at Lintons.com.

Help SAVE Mother Earth

Every year millions of nursery pots are used just once and then hauled away to the landfill. By recycling and re-using the pots, we can all do our part to help Mother Earth. For each used black plastic nursery pot (1 gallon or larger) returned to us, Linton's will reward you with a credit of 5 cents per container. And we don't mind if the container was purchased elsewhere. (We also recycle glass floral vases too!)

Note: Pots must be in relatively good condition and without labels.

SEASONAL DÉCOR

Did you know that Linton's can decorate your home's interior to reflect the seasons? Whether it be spring, summer, fall or winter, let our design team create an indoor living space that is as unique as you are! As always, our initial visit is complimentary!

CREATING AN OUTDOOR ROOM

By Laura Sherman, Linton's Garden Centre Manager

People are extending the comfort and luxury of their homes into the great outdoors. They are spending more time at home and are showing an increasing interest in outdoor rooms. These rooms can easily be created with just a little imagination and a little help from Linton's. To create an outdoor room you need to decide what you will use the space for. Will it be used to sit and watch your children play, is it a relaxing area to read your favorite book, is it for entertaining your closest friends or will it be a combination of a few different uses?

You can begin to build your room by adding some of the main pieces of furniture. How about a pergola and a wonderful set of outdoor furniture? A good set of furniture can last many years. Small tables to place accessories are also important pieces of furniture to incorporate into your room. These will be the bones of your room and will probably be your most expensive pieces. They add beauty and character and create the atmosphere of a lush oasis. To add some color and your own style to the furniture, try adding some comfy cushions and contrasting pillows. To change the look of the room, change the cushions on the furniture depending your entertaining needs.

Now that you have furniture, you will need to accessorize your room. There are so many items to choose from. The most popular accessory is potted plants. They can add important texture and appeal to the area. Lintons grows a wide variety of plant material to help you create stunning combination pots. Choosing containers for your plants can really get fun and interesting. There are so many choices and they can be changed from year to year as trends come and go. Firepots have become very popular because of their wonderful calming effect. The varieties are endless, tabletop versions, floor models, country, contemporary, large and small. They use an alcohol based gel for burning and can help repel insects. What about waterproof art? This is the newest thing to brighten up a dreary corner and add some pizzazz. New on the market, these are fabulous paintings that are weatherproof and fade resistant, so they are perfect for an outdoor space with a plain wall or fence. The final touch for your outdoor room is a water feature. Fountains act like a magnet and will draw your guests to your outdoor room. Fountains can help drown out road noise or other noises from neighboring properties and create a relaxing atmosphere!

Whatever type of room you would like to create, just make it your own. You can make it as elaborate or simple as you wish. Just have fun with it. If you need help to create your outdoor space, just come in and we can help you get started. Happy Gardening!

Quilt Gardens

The 5th annual Quilt Gardens...along the Heritage Trail joins quilting, gardening, and art into a one-of-a-kind event!! Linton's Enchanted Gardens is proud to once again be part of this wonderful experience. Our new 2011 quilt garden is "Grandmother's Flower Garden" which features a beautiful assortment of Zinia's, Petunias, Alyssum Ageratum and Dusty Miller. The origins of this particular pattern lie in ancient Roman times. Known as "honeycomb" or "mosiac", the 6 sided rosette came to America with colonists and received it's current name in more recent history.

Enjoy the Quilt Gardens Tour from May 30-October 1. It's free, fun and fantastic!

Mr. Smarty Plants

Dear Mr. Smarty Plants,

I bought a wisteria three years ago and it has never bloomed. I don't understand why. I water, fertilize and train all the new shoots to cover my trellis. It's big, but a flop!

Signed,
Floppy

Dear Floppy,

You care too much! Try becoming Cruella de Ville of the plant world for a while! Cut off all its long twining arms back to two buds, except those being trained for framework. Do this once in June or July and again in October or November. Don't fertilize it, ever! Starve it!!! Good soil and water are okay, but keep fertilizer away from root zone. By denying it lush growth and food it will strive to flower and produce seed. Just be stern! By the way, it takes 20-30 years for seedlings to flower.

Signed,

A REVOLUTIONARY GARDEN CENTRE

Linton's Enchanted Gardens, in Elkhart, was featured in an article in the January 2011 "Today's Garden Center" Magazine as being selected as one of the "Revolutionary 100 Garden Centers" in the entire United States. The criteria for the selection process was based upon garden centers who "think outside the box" and thus create a "Revolutionary Garden Center". Linton's Enchanted Gardens was awarded this title based upon many different accomplishments, such as, creating a "destination home and garden centre", partnering with the local visitors bureau and attracting over 100 tour buses each year, the various themed special events that the firm promotes throughout the seasons, meticulously maintained themed and display gardens, themed architectural structures throughout the facility, ADA accessibility, various promotions, such as the firm's Flower of the Month Club, the Green Thumb Savings Club, and the Great Gardeners Rewards program, the introduction of over 300 new plants annually grown at their 40 acre nursery, and their free seminars, just to name a few.

The award was presented to Mark Linton/President, while in Atlanta, GA, and included a three day seminar which allowed the 100 Revolutionary Garden Centre owners to participate in workshops and network with the others as well as exchange ideas. According to Mark Linton: "We are both thrilled and honored to be recognized for our team's hard work and accomplishments." Linton's Enchanted Gardens is in their 29th year of business and operations include a home and garden centre, a floral shoppe, interior decor and design, a nursery located in Bristol, IN, a landscape architecture design and installation firm, as well as a complete lawn and landscape maintenance company. The firm employs over 100 employees and was selected and awarded last year by the Indiana Association of Nurserymen as Indiana's best new Home and Garden Centre for the firm's new location and 9 acre facility on County Road 17.

Linton's Enchanted Gardens, located in Elkhart, was selected to be featured in the February, 2011 edition of the "Country Folks Grower", a monthly publication. The firm was featured on both the outside and inside front cover of the magazine. The magazine is distributed to those businesses that are associated with the horticultural industry and either grow or sell plants.

According to Mark Linton, president, "I was excited to learn that they wanted us to be their featured business." The article featured Linton's Enchanted Gardens and compared it to a Disney-like attraction, or theme park. The complete article may be viewed on line by searching "Linton's Enchanted Gardens Country Folks Grower".

Area 51 Warning: U.F.O.s Spotted!

No, this isn't Roswell; this is a "Restricted Area" at Linton's Enchanted Gardens for serious plant collectors only! Yes, the U.F.O.s (Unusual Flowering Objects) have been spotted in the middle of our Garden Centre located around the landing gear of the "large, metallic silver flying disk". We acknowledge, and no longer deny that these plants truly do exist! Our "Research Facility", aka Linton's Nursery, has grown these U.F.O.s utilizing intense security surrounding these never-been-seen-before, Unusual Flowering Objects. What many have believed to have been once a "cover-up", we now agree to openly share these once "off-limit" U.F.O.s to only civilians who are classified as being "plant enthusiasts".

These U.F.O.s are now available for the very first time to those that are authorized to help our "Research Facility" find appropriate "test sites" for their future growth and development. We must insist that a strict limit of only 10 per variety be put into place, due to the extreme rarity of these growing and living organisms. Each U.F.O. has been properly identified, named, and tagged with its unique vital statistics, and each U.F.O. includes a small fee to help cover our plant research and development costs.

The U.F.O.s that are scheduled to be released from our "Research Facility" for this spring include:
