My Back Yard is “For The Birds”

by Mark B. Linton, President

This past spring I was honored to be selected to design and install a custom back yard landscape to attract birds for Donald and Marie Clemens of Goshen. The Clemens are both retired, love to travel and celebrated their 50th Wedding Anniversary this past summer.

Both Donald and Marie share a passion for birds and requested that we create a wildlife habitat in their own back yard.

We began the process by mapping out the area and assessing the multiple views from inside the residence, as well as from their rear deck. We decided upon the ideal location for the focal point, a garden pond, complete with a water-fall which provides flowing water year 'round for their birds.

Their newly landscaped back yard has seen a major transformation. The new landscape provides the birds with additional protection from potential predators. Ornamental grasses, along with other plantings will provide nesting materials. Native trees and shrubs have been planted and will produce seeds, nuts and berries all season long! Colorful perennial gardens not only offer beauty, but offer the birds a place to eat and hide. Hummingbird attracting perennials will also be attracting nectar-loving butterflies. We also reduced the size of their lawn and turned these areas into additional bird attracting plantings, making this a low-maintenance landscape. Now that the newly attracted birds are feeling at home in the Clemens' back yard, they will be back year after year to visit with Don and Marie.

I want to thank the Clemens for the opportunity to be a part of this project, and for also allowing their back yard to be featured on WNDU16, as well as Ag-Day, which is aired nationally by all NBC affiliates. If you missed the sequel, it may be viewed on YouTube at “Linton's Enchanted.” just click on “My Back Yard is 'For the Birds'.”

16 CURB APPEAL HOME

The 16 Curb Appeal home on East Jackson Blvd. in Elkhart has now been completed. The 150+ year old home has seen a major transformation and according to Brian and Beth Housand, the project has exceeded their expectations! Their favorite parts of their new landscape are the antique paving bricks for the front sidewalk and the Magnolia Tree, which is already forming new buds for next spring.

We wish to thank both the Housands and WNDU for this opportunity!

KIND WORDS FROM OUR CUSTOMER

“Dear Linton’s & Staff: Thank you from the bottom of my heart for sponsoring “The Big Pink Weekend!” As a winner of the roses and gift basket, I have been so thrilled with my gifts! The roses are still so very lovely—the size of saucers. I have shared them with friends all over town—giving credit to Linton’s, of course!

Thankfully & Gratefully yours,

Preparing Your Pond for Winter

John Amos, Senior Garden Centre Staff/Master Gardener

Here in northern Indiana it is time to begin preparing your pond for winter. If you follow these basic steps, your pond will survive our winter to thrive again next spring.

1. Clean all pumps and filters and add Microblift winter prep solution and run pumps-to circulate. This beneficial bacteria will work all winter.
2. Give your pond a fall cleaning. You will want to clean the mulm (debris) from the bottom of the pond. It is essential that all the old leaves and mulm are removed! This is where the aeromonas bacteria and parasites live if you let them. Clean before adding any treatments. If the pond does not have any large amounts of debris, do not empty the entire pond. Change 30% of the water and be sure to check the PH and ammonia levels. Prepare your pond netting for use and install before the leaves begin to fall.
3. Clean all filters, skimmers, etc. and remove if they are located where they could freeze. Stop feeding fish when the water temperature gets into the 50's. Clean your floating de-icer and plug in before the water begins to freeze.
4. Now is the time to remove and compost water lettuce and hyacinth.
5. Prune all dead foliage and move plants to the bottom of the pond.

At Linton’s Enchanted Gardens we carry a complete line of pond supplies, including Microblift, pond netting, pond heaters, as well as free professional advice!

CHRISTMAS CARD RECYCLING

This winter we are again partnering with ADEC in Bristol. We will be collecting Christmas Card fronts that will be recycled into new cards by the ADEC residents. This is not only a great way to recycle your old Christmas cards, but to help a local organization turn the old cards into new cards that may be sold to help support their programs. Linton’s will be collecting the card fronts at our customer service counter during the months of January and February. Please help us to help the residents at ADEC.

As a service to our customers, Linton's offers

Mr. Smarty Plants

Dear Mr. Smarty Plants,

Last year my landscaped yard really got clobbered by the cold, wind, and snow. Any tips for preventing that this year?

Signed,

All burned up

Dear Burned,

Yes! Start now with preventive care, particularly if you have not already begun to do so. Trees and shrubs need soil and foliar moisture to prevent dehydration of branches and needles. (a.k.a.: Winter Burn). Inadequate moisture going into Winter is a major cause of tree and shrub damage and even death. Mid Fall is the time to start tapering off on watering, but don't just "stop". Frozen snow and ice don't readily melt in our Northern winters to provide enough water. Consider purchasing an anti-desiccant spray (i.e. Wilt Stop) for your small to medium sized evergreens and conifers (exception: not on sensitive Blue Spruce). The natural waxy coating that these sprays contain provides protection and prevents loss of moisture. Sealing sprays and anti-desiccants break down in Sunlight, so plan on re-applying when the temperatures won't drop below freezing for 24 hours. Make sure foliage and needles are dry (not wet) before applying, and that the sealant will have enough time to dry before any snow or rain occurs.

In an ongoing effort to increase our ADA accessibility, Linton's Enchanted Gardens now has a wheel chair available for the use of our guests. It is located just inside our front entrance.
